- c. Further Education / non-award courses.

Section 3 - Definitions

(5) Assessment: Victoria University defines assessment as the methods and procedures by which a student's academic progress and standard, at a given time, are measured. Within this single definition, the University recognises three broad types of assessment:

- a. diagnostic — assessment that identifies the level of competency/performance/ knowledge before commencing learning in a course/ program/ learning experience but does not contribute to the student's final grade;
- b. formative — assessment that provides feedback to the student during the learning experience;
- c. summative — assessment that is focussed on the outcomes of the learning experience.

(6) Assessment and Student Progress Boards: ASPB can refer to:

- a. A committee established by the College Dean responsible for:
  - i. Reviewing and finalising student results;
  - ii. Reviewing the overall progress of students;
  - iii. Identifying students at risk of making unsatisfactory progress;
  - iv. Determining eligibility and offers of conceded passes and supplementary assessment;
  - v. Reviewing applications for Special Consideration

vi. Referring students who have made unsatisfactory progress to the Academic Progress process of the University; and

vii. Documenting all decisions and actions on the student file.

b. Where such a committee does not exist, the functions of the ASPB can be discharged by a nominee or nominees of the relevant College Dean.

(7) Course: The overall program of study in which the student is enrolled - referred to by the name of the expected terminal qualification arising from it (eg Bachelor of Business course, Graduate Diploma of Marketing course).

(8) Moderation: A process of independent checking or verification of assessment decisions, including results, by an appropriately qualified person.

(9) Unit: An individual subject within a course.

(10) Validation: Validation is a process used to check that assessment tasks are aligned with and reflect unit learning outcomes, that content and standards are set at an appropriate level, and that the format, approach and criteria for assessment are of an appropriate quality

- b. Non-graded assessment (pass/fail or competency-based assessment) of a unit may be appropriate if it is
  - i. not possible to define appropriate criteria to distinguish between levels of satisfactory performance; or
  - ii. not practicable or meaningful to distinguish between levels of satisfactory performance; or
  - iii. based on a competency model of assessment.
- c. Where a combination of competency-based assessment and graded assessment is used, grades of pass and above may only be used when the required competency has been achieved.
