Part E - Examination Breaches

During the examination

(59) Examination Rules (Part D of this Procedure) are applied consistently to ensure their conduct is fair to all students. Authorised Officers should take appropriate and proportionate measures to resolve or report incidents as they occur.

(60) Invigilators should advise students of the Rules before the commencement of the examination, using the University's Examination Announcement.

(61) Authorised Officers aware of a potential or actual incident should assess the situation and respond to issues at their discretion, seeking advice from Chief Invigilators and the supervising academic staff member as appropriate:

(62) There are some circumstances that may be resolved at the time rather than reported as a Breach of Examination Rules, by administering a warning. These include:

- a. Where a device is found to be switched on, but not in use
- b. Where a device or object has been placed in the incorrect location

(63) Where students are administered with a warning, a record will be made of the warning and a letter sent to the student after the examination reiterating the substance of the warning. Students may only receive one warning - all subsequent infractions of examination rules will be treated as a breach.

(64) Authorised Officers who suspect a student may be cheating must report the matter to the Invigilator/Supervisor responsible to confirm a breach has occurred / is occurring. At that time:

- a. The Breach of Examination form must be completed by the Invigilator who observed the potential misconduct and the Invigilator in charge.
- b. This Breach of Examination Report must be fully completed as soon as a suspected breach occurs.

(65) Authorised Officers may:

- a. give reasonable directions (see 11-13 of the Student Misconduct Procedure), including confiscation of unauthorised materials; and/or
- b. temporarily remove a student in more serious situations (see 14-17 Student Misconduct Procedure).

(66) Conduct should be reported to the Assessments staff as soon as possible after the breach has occurred, without waiting until the end of the exam session.

(67) Students should be encouraged to complete their exam and see the Invigilator/Supervisor in charge at the end of the examination.

(68) At the end of the examination the student's ID card should be returned and they must be given the breach of exam notice and the Student Advisory notice.

(69) Confiscated material, except for electronic devices, must not be returned to the student at the end of the exam. The student can make arrangements to collect confiscated material after the investigation and outcome.

(70) If the Examiner is present, he/she can complete their section of the Breach of Examination Report and consider any materials.

(71) If an Examiner is not present, unauthorised material should be photographed / scanned and the Examiner sent a copy by email in order for him/her to complete the relevant section on the Breach of Examination Report to return to the Student Matters Office within 2 working days from receipt of the email.

After the examination

(72) The completed Breach of Examination Report must be sent by email to the Student Matters Office at student.matters@vu.edu.au.

(73) If an incident is reported as a Breach and sufficient information has been provided, the matter will be referred to a Senior Officer within the College as an allegation of misconduct as set out in the Student Misconduct Regulations and Procedure.

(74) Senior Officers will:

- a. Investigate the alleged breach by reviewing the evidence provided and interviewing witnesses if required
- b. Provide the student with an opportunity to explain their actions (either in writing, on the phone, or in person)
- c. Make a determination as to:
  - i. Whether the breach is substantiated
  - ii. If substantiated, whether the breach is serious or minor
  - iii. What sanction would be most appropriate in the circumstances

(75) Sanctions that may be imposed for a substantiated breach of examination rules include all options available to Senior Officers under the Student Misconduct Procedures s 76:

- a. reprimanding and/or cautioning the student;
- b. recording a failure or zero mark or result or other appropriate mark or result for all or any part of the examination;
- c. requiring the student to repeat the examination;
- d. requiring the student to refrain from association with specified person/s for the purposes of study or assessment;
- e. requiring a student to undertake alternative assessment for the Unit on terms determined by the Senior Officer.

(76) In determining the appropriate sanction, Senior Officers may take into account:

- a. Whether this is a first or subsequent breach by the student
- b. Whether the breach could have occurred via a misunderstanding on the part of the student
- c. Whether the student has acknowledged the behaviour and demonstrated remorse
- d. Whether the breach had, or could have had, a potential impact on the outcome of the examination

e. Whether the breach involved collusion between one or more students

(77) The student must be notified of the decision within 5 University business days of the decision of the Senior Officer.

(78) Where a decision is made that the allegation of student misconduct is substantiated, the student must also be informed of:

- a. the sanction to be imposed;
- b. the reasons for the decision, including the findings on material facts; and
- c. their right to appeal in accordance with the Appeals Regulations 2014 and the time within which an appeal may be made (i.e. 20 University business days from the date the student is sent the decision).
